Stormy Career

New York, Sopt. 30 .- A possible explanation of the terrible slaughter among the Germans described in the recent dispatches from the scene of war is furnished by a prominent American long resident in Paris and widely acquainted in Government circles. It is his opinion that the Freuch are using shells filled with a new explosive invented by Eugene Turpin, the inventor of meiinite, which liherates deadly gases that asphyxiate ali within range of the shellas

At the hoginning of the war the Paris newspapers mentioned a new expiosive of Turpin's invention which had ust been tried out, and predicted that it would annihilate whole regiments. Bombs charged with it were dropped from aeropianes upon a field containing several hundred sheep, and according to the report ail the animals were killed by the fumes. So deadly was this explosive that the French Government at first hesitated to use it on the ground that the slaughter would be too terrible.

Our grandfathers will tell of the days when they waiked miles to the iog cabin school, where the school master and his long keen switch and the bineback speller were indelibiy impressed upon the youthful mind. They will tell of the health of the hoys and girls of that distunt day There were no sanitary inspections acn. There were no visiting physicains to examine the physical conditious of the various pupils.

All of this is true. At that time the log cabin with its ample opportunity to admit fresh air, the healthy walk in the open, the splendid exercise enjoyed by the scholars and the simple food that they had at home, mude the nitrudance of the physleigh rarely necessary.

it was a healthy age then. Today we live in an adulterated atmos pitere, in an artificial age. We enjoy rich foods and steam heat. The opportunities for good health to have its way are limited.

This is why so much care must be exercised if he boys and girls are to grow up to be healthy men aud in Sirelby County the children are wonderfully blessed. The school system Is un admirable one. A much care is given to the development of youthful bodies as is given to the development of youthful intellects.

In a number of rural communities, according to th Public Health Service Commission, it was found that the school attendance was small, although the child population of these districts was relatively large, it is lieved that due attention to the proper construction, equipment and maintenance of school buildings and the proper adjustment of he curricuium o he capacities of the chiid wili iargely prevent uch absence from school and will reduce juvenile de-

ITS GOOD BYE FOR CARRANZA

Villa Demands That He Resign as Chief Executive of Mexico.

El Paso, Sept. 28.-The beginning of actual, hostilitiea between the divided Constitutionalist army awaited tonight General Carranza's answer to Viila, who has demanded that he resign in favor of Fernando Ibiesias Caideron as first chief. So far as could be learned here, however, there has been established no actual armistice and both Carranza'a and Vilia's forces continued preparations and movements towards each other.

Washington, Sept. 28 .- Formal announcement from Vala that he won't be a candidate for president or vice president of Mexico was received at the state department today through the consular agent, Carrothers, at Chihauhua City. This dispatch was the first to reach Washington from the interior of Mexico since Villa's revolt against Carranza's authority as first chief of the Constitutionalists and greatly strengthened the hopes of the officials here for a peaceful adjustment of the dificulties between the two

The department tonight is without further information from Mexico City, but it was generally believed that if Carranza resigns Thursday, taken from his earthly home to the as has ben declared he will, the convention aclied by him for that date will name as his successor, Fernando Ibiesias Caidron,

Memoirs of Napoleon

In Three Volumes

This man caused the last general European war.

His personal memoirs, written by his secretary, Baron De Meneval, are full of the most absorbing incidents, especially in view of the present great European struggle.

Just a hundred years ago, his ambitions bathed the Continent in a sea of blood. France alone, under his leadership, fought Germany, Russia, Austria, Italy, and Great Britain-and acon.

> A brief outline of the magnitude of this plant may not omproperly precede the description of process of distilliation. The Gienmore distiliery is located just east of the city iimits of Owensboro. The total investment exceeds $1,000,000. The distlifery is a mam noth building of steel and concrete. Except for the tweive fermenters, or beer tubs each holding 27,000 gailons, there is not a foot of timber about the entire building. Eight large bonded warehouses store six million gailons of spirits, if the tax on the spirits now bonded in these warehouses was ail paid tomorrow Uncie Sam would be richer by six millions of dollars. The inity eapacity of this plant is 1,950 bushels of grain or about 9,000 gaiions of spirits.

But to the process of manufacture. Shelled corn by the car load is switched up to the elevators where it is dumped into metal bins the comblned capacity of which is 70,000 bu. The milis grind 250 bushels an hour. The meal is carried by elevators to great chests in the tower. Shoots open from these chests down to large bins swung on Fairbanks scales where Uncie Sam's storekeeper weighs it in drafts of 10,000 pounds. By another shoot the meal is ict down from the bottom of the weighing bin to the cooker helow. The cooker is a hollow metal ciyinder five feet in diameter and eighteen feet iong and lies horizontal to the tioor. After a draft of ten thousand pounds of meal and sufficient water are let in the cooker the cap or manhead is boited down and steam is turned into it. This meai is kept under steam for two hours and must be heated to about 270 Farenheit After cooking the meal is piped to a breaker or masher where small amounts of malt are added, after

To this mash is added now a small quantity of yeast which is made in seperate cookers by mixing mait, rye and a small quantity of hops. When the fermenter is a little more than half illed with the mash and yeast it is then filled to within a few inches of the top with spent beer or beer from which the spirits have been aiready distliled. The contents of the fermenter is now called beer and must set seventy-two hours for fermentation. The meal is raised to a high temperature to break up the starch and convert it to sugar and during the period of fermentation the billions of microscopic yeast plants absorb or eat up the sugar and convert it into alcohol somewhat after the manner the bee converts the juices of the flower into honey. After standing seventy-two hours in ready for hoiling. The beer still at the Gienmore is the largest single copper vessel thirty feet high, four on one end. The stlii is divided by Turpin, the snpposed inventor of the new shell, has had a stormy history. In 1836, in his laboratory at Colombes, he discovered a method of making picris acid tractable and available for use in high explosives. Thereupon he proceeded with the invention of milinite, and followed with several other explosives. In 1887, however, he accused a certain Capt. Tripon, of the territorial artillery, of stealing his formula and plans for shells and selling them to the Armstrongs in England. Turpin published a book in 1890 attacking the Armstrongs and Tripon with such effect that he procured the latter's conviction, but in the book he puhished varions plans and specifications which gave his enemies a chance to attack him on the charge of dvuiging secrets pertaining to the national defenses. He was sentenced to five years' imprisonment and pardoned after twenty-three months.

When A Hapsburg Dies.

A very strange buriai custom has been observed for centuries by the house of Hapsburg, the most ancient of the reigning houses of Europe. On the death of the Austrian Emperor the body is carried by the shortest way from the imperial palace to the crypt of the ancient monastery of the Capuchins, near Vlenna. No one appears to receive the royal cortege. Thereupon the master of ceremonles knocks on the closed doct with his staff and demands admisslon.

Do You Want a Fence?

Once a farmer said to one of his farmer friends when he was trying to sell him a cow:

"A cow is a cow." "Yes." replied the other, "but there's a mighty big difference in cows."

Some give lots of good milk, and some don't give enough to pay for their keep. Some it's a profit to own, and others a dead loss. It's the same way with you, Friend Farmer, in regard to your fencing. Some is a profit to own and install while others are a dead loss. Remember we have the best wire fencing line, from the strongest pasture fence down to the poultry wire fence. Won't you please get our prices? We have rock-bottom price for every one. We're here with the goods.
